

IGRAF® EXTENDS MARKET-LEADING BUSINESS PROCESS ANALYSIS SOLUTION

May 4, 2009 — iGrafx®, a leading provider of Business Process Analysis (BPA) solutions, announced the availability of its latest software release, iGrafx 2009, continues the iGrafx vision of enabling the whole organization to achieve process excellence by extending the industry leading iGrafx ease of use characteristics combined with powerful extensions to collaboration and communication capabilities all targeted at addressing the pressing issues facing organizations as they wrestle with the current economic realities.

iGrafx 2009 enables:

- end-users to more efficiently produce higher quality process maps and models;
- cross-functional, geographically dispersed stakeholders to more effectively communicate and collaborate in the context of process improvement initiatives; and
- organizations to appropriately align enterprise business and process architectures ensuring process improvement initiatives and related personnel are strongly aligned with corporate goals and objectives while successfully managing change and controlling risk.

When combined with pre-existing capabilities, the new and enhanced features deliver benefits enabling organizations to be agile in their business transformation activities and aggressively pursue process excellence.

iGrafx's industry leading BPA solutions are used by thousands of organizations across numerous vertical markets throughout the world in their efforts to achieve process excellence. Used standalone or in conjunction with other complementary Business Process Management (BPM) tools, iGrafx solutions have permitted many organizations to continuously improve quality, adhere to industry regulations, manage risk, and reduce cycle time of key business processes to realize remarkable cost savings while enhancing customer satisfaction.

"We are excited to be able to extend and enhance our vision by enabling our customers to more easily and effectively transform their businesses at this critical time", said Ken Carraher, President of iGrafx. "iGrafx 2009 delivers many compelling new and enhanced features collectively permitting organizations large and small to quickly identify, introduce, and manage change to their business operations required to survive and ultimately thrive in today's uncertain economic climate."
